Omicron: Medical colleges across K'taka put on high alert

ICUs to be spruced up to tackle the outbreak: Sudhakar

BENGALURU, DHNS

Close on the heels of the outbreak of Omicron variant of Covid-19 in Bengaluru, the state government on Friday put all the medical colleges across Karnataka on high alert to face the possible third wave and provide treatment to the cases of the new strain of coronavirus. Chairing a video conference meeting with the directors of all the medical colleges, Health and Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar said that all health workers must stand up to the demands and provide effective treatment. "There are 21 medical colleges offering health services in Karnataka. Everyone, including the HoDs, professors and senior doctors have been advised to stand up to the demands and provide effective treatment. They can also avail the help of resident doctors, and final-year medical students," the minister said. The minister also directed the establishments to conduct a month-long training for 18,000 nurses and ramp up pediatric ICUs to face the possible onslaught of the third wave. "During the first and second age of nurses to treat patients in the ICUs. We have resolved that issue now as there are about 18,000 students in final-year nursing and paramedics. Officials have been asked to provide one-month training to them, in collaboration with RGUHS and other institutions," explained Sudhakar. The minister said that the Cabinet had decided to set up paediatric ICUs. "As per the advice of the Covid Technical Advisory Committee, a special ICU and ward will be provided for the Omicron-infected patients. Those who are infected with Delta will be treated in a separate ward. The number of beds and ICUs to be reserved will be decided soon," he said. Acknowledging that there has been a delay in payment of allowances to the resident doctors, Sudhakar said, "The pending Covid risk allowance dues, amounting to Rs 73 crore, of resident doctors will be cleared soon".

16 cases of Omicron variant in state, claims H K Patil

'Alleges laxity in contact-tracing of docs' meet attendees'

GADAG, DHNS

Senior Congress leader H K Patil on Friday said, according to information available with him, as many as 16 persons had tested positive for Omicron variant of coronavirus in the state by December 2 evening. Speaking to reporters here, Patil said, "A total of 16 people had returned positive for the Omicron variant of the virus in the state as on December 2. The situation is alarming, but the state government is doing precious little in tackling it." "Over 250 doctors had attended a conference held in Bengaluru on Nov 20. State's first case of Omicron variant, a doctor, had also attended the meeting. His family members too have tested positive for Covid. However, there is no clarity on whether they are infected with the Omicron variant. What's more disturbing is the fact that the state government has, so far, made no effort to collect the information about the conference attendees and trace their primary and secondary contacts," Patil alleged. He added, the doctors had hired 125 cabs and visited malls and restaurants after the conference got over. "Last week, Bengaluru saw 466 international arrivals. However, only 100 international travellers were subjected to Covid tests. The government initiated measures to trace and collect the information about those who were not tested, only after the two cases were confirmed in the state," Patil charged. The Congress legislator urged the state government to make public the recommendations by the Technical Advisory Committee in its 136th meeting and implement the same soon. "The government should make arrangements to compulsorily screen travellers from Omicron-affected countries and make them undergo institutional quarantine. Also, steps should be taken to get genome sequencing reports at the earliest. Further, it should publish treatment guidelines for the patients infected with the Omicron variant of the virus," the former RDP minister said. The Election Commission should ease poll conduct rules to enable the government to convene meetings with elected representatives on Covid, he said.

Quarantine breach: BBMP issues show-cause notice to hotel

SURAKSHA P BENGALURU, DHNS

The Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) has issued a show-cause notice to Shangri-La hotel in Vasanthnagar over its failure to keep the 66-year-old South African traveller, India's first Omicron patient, in quarantine though he was Covid positive. The notice, a copy of which was accessed by DH, said, "A declared Covid-19 positive patient, who had travelled from South Africa to Bengaluru and had tested positive with the sample collected at the Bengaluru Airport was isolated at your facility on November 20. It was informed by the medical officer of BBMP to the hotel authorities and to the patient that he shall remain under isolation for the next 14 days," the notice said. "However, your hotel has violated the same and allowed the Covid-19 positive patient to travel out of your facility on November 25 for a meeting, and further to check out of the facility on November 27, both without informing BBMP officials. This is a violation of Covid-19 protocols and action may be initiated under the Karnataka Epidemic Diseases Ordinance 2020 and Disaster Management Act 2005. We seek your explanation to the same within 24 hours of receiving this notice, failing which strict action shall be initiated under DMA 2005 and KEDO 2020," the notice read. Asked whether it was the

BBMP's responsibility to enforce institutional quarantine or the hotel's BBMP Chief Health Officer, Public Health, Dr Balasundar SA told DH, that it may be the civic body's responsibility to enforce quarantine but the hotel authorities were informed of the Covid positive status of the passenger. "They should have at least informed our officials when he left the hotel for the meeting during his stay, and after that checked out to catch a flight."

A nodal officer with the BBMP, told DH, "He may have left the country. But his 24 positive contacts are what concern us. They can still be carriers despite being asymptomatic. He went for an office meeting in Bommasandra on November 25 where he generated six contacts. But they're all negative. We have even traced the cab he took to the airport on November 27 at half-past-midnight." A spokesperson of the hotel said that they were conducting an investigation and hence were unable to share details at this point. "The hotel remains committed to providing a safe environment for all through Shangri-La Cares, the group's global safety programme. Shangri-La has followed recommendations laid out by the World Health Organization or more stringent local directives where appropriate, to ensure its operational protocols are comprehensive. The health and safety of our guests and colleagues is of the utmost priority," the hotel spokesperson said.

Search on for five 'missing' SA returnees

BENGALURU, DHNS: A day after the country's first two cases of Omicron variants were reported in Bengaluru, the Health department officials have expressed concern over 10 missing South Africa returnees. Acknowledging the concerns of the officials, Health and Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar said that efforts are on to trace and track these missing returnees from South Africa, soon after holding a high-level meeting with all medical college directors. However, by evening, the number had come down to five. According to Health Department officials, as many as 72 people have arrived in Bengaluru from South Africa. Out of these only 43 passengers had given addresses in Bengaluru, four have left for their states while the remaining travelled to different districts. As per the BBMP data from November 28 to December 2, as many as 23 passengers arrived in Bengaluru. "A total of 14 passengers have tested negative and the test results of others are awaited. Only five are yet to be traced," said an official from the health department. Revenue minister R Ashoka told media persons, "We have directed the health officials to look into it and trace the missing travellers. We have given them a 24 hours deadline to track all of them and test them as per the protocol."
